Background: Originally from Las Vegas and now in Detroit, Webb's latest CD, inspired by his son's birth, spent 17 days at the top of mp3.com's General Jazz charts last year.

Goals: "I love the idea of not having to depend on someone else to release my music.
The Internet allowed me to let people decide if they liked the music. My mp3.com site will play a major role, since anything I release will be available there. Because of my site, people all over the world have heard my music, and because of the money I've made, I have a fretless and a 6-string."
